

THE REFORMED INSTITUTE OF METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON

PRESENTS ITS FIFTEENTH ANNUAL CONVOCATION

Unexpected yet not Un-predestined? The Surprising Growth of Calvinism as a Global Religious Phenomenon in the late 20th Century

In recent decades Christianity has undergone rapid growth in much of the Southern hemisphere. What has been the role of Reformed Protestants in that development, and what does it portend for the future of the Reformed movement?

Dr. Paul C. H. Lim

*Associate Professor, History of Christianity
The Divinity School of Vanderbilt University*

Dr. Lim is Associate Professor of the History of Christianity at the Divinity School of Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee. A graduate of Yale University and Princeton Seminary, he did his doctoral work at Cambridge University in England. A Reformation scholar who has written extensively on the history of the Reformed tradition, he is also interested in the impact of globalization on Christian missions, and one of his current projects is a book on the Christian response to the challenge of human trafficking.

REFORMED
INSTITUTE of METROPOLITAN
WASHINGTON

Saturday, January 27, 2018

National Presbyterian Church
4101 Nebraska Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20016

Continental breakfast 9:00 a.m.
Presentation and Response, 9:30 a.m. to Noon

*No charge for this event; registration is helpful but not required
Books will be available for sale.*

Snow Date: Saturday, March 17

To register: www.reformedinstitute.org or contact
Mary Hill, program coordinator, 703-518-5125, mhill@reformedinstitute.org